WOULD APPOINT

If Attorney Joseph Lightfoot is chosen city and county attorney at the general election next month he will appoint Attorney Harry Irwin as his deputy and will conduct the of-fice with but one assistant.

signed as city prosecutor.

He spoke of Lightfoot as being an attorney with many years of legal experience, and an attorney who had been interested in some of the biggest cases in the territory in recent present incumbent was not at all justice.

Lightfoot, in announcing that he would appoint Irwin if elected, declared his intention of running the city and county attorney's office with the aid of but one assistant, thus doing away with the custom of the city attorney having a first and a second deputy.

He said that, as a general rule, when the press starts knocking a candidate it is because that candidate declines to be controlled by the press, and be asserted that Rose was a candidate who would not be so controlled. He referred to "Eddie" Hopkins as a "conceited boy," and said he believed the people wanted a man to sit in judgment on them when they got into trouble, and not a boy.

was the amusing manner in which both the Advertiser and Star-Bulletin were raked over the coals for advocating policies or backing candidates not to the liking of some of the individual speakers.

Among the candidates who received the largest applause was Edward Hopkins, candidate for sheriff. E. A. Mott-Smith, for supervisor, also got a big hand and James Bicknell, auditor, was assured by the crowd that he had nothing to fear.

One thing which was particularly noticeable was the confidence with which every Republican candidate for reelection asked the voters for their support and, although their voices were husky, they spoke as men who knew that they had done their work honestly and well and had nothing to fear as far as toeir record went.

J. C. Cohen, Republican candidate for mayor, held his last meeting at the Bijou theater. He declared that his opponents had become desperate and were using every influence to defeat him because they knew he had no "string on him" and could not be controlled. He also went after Mayor Lane, who he said had made a dis-mal failure as mayor, but praised the SE IN CHARGE work of the present board, who he claimed were not to blame for the EL FARE STATION mistakes of the administration, which OME NEXT WEEK could be laid directly at Lane's door.

Underwood Wins Again!

The Eastern States' Championship Contests were held in Boston on April 9th, the Underwood winning in all three classes. We quote the following from a New York publication:

"The performance of the Underwood typists in the Eastern States' Championship contests was a worthy one indeed. The young man who won the amateur contest, George L. Hossfeld, wrote 135 words per minute for a half hour's writing. A world of credit is due young Mr. Hossfeld for only three years ago, when he won the novice Eastern States' Championship, his record was but 75 words per minute for 15 minutes' writing. His remarkable improvement is an achievement he can well be proud of. The performance of Albert Tangora in winning the novice contest at a speed of 91 net words per minute for 15 minutes' continuous writing, has astounded those who had followed him. Only in September, 1916, did Mr. Tangora begin his typewriting studies, and the fact that after only 7 months' work he can win under such a severe test, speaks most highly for his instructors."
